DPNR DIVISION OF FISH AND WILDLIFE RELEASES FOURTH ISSUE OF GO WILD, GO FISH VI MAGAZINE

Commissioner Jean-Pierre Oriol of the Department of Planning and Natural Resources (DPNR) is pleased to announce the release of the fourth issue of Go Wild, Go Fish VI, a magazine produced by the Division of Fish and Wildlife (DFW) that highlights the division's ongoing work and accomplishments.

The magazine provides insight into DFW's federal partnerships, programs, and collaborations with other DPNR divisions and local organizations, all of which support its mission to preserve, protect, restore, promote, and responsibly manage the Virgin Islands' fish and wildlife resources.

Some of the highlights in the latest edition include the creation of the VI's first wildlife habitat corridor, the U.S. Caribbean's first recreational fishing license platform, and the installation of vibrant murals highlighting invasive species awareness at the territory's seaports. Viewers can explore some of the latest happenings at the VI Division of Fish & Wildlife in the fourth issue of the magazine by clicking on <https://heyzine.com/flip-book/b1d82afda3.html>.

Previous editions of Go Wild, Go Fish VI have featured a wide range of topics, including the comprehensive land and water use plan, collaborative efforts with border security to prevent the removal of sand and shells from local beaches, the endangered Virgin Islands tree boa, and the division's sea mapping program. The magazine also spotlights DFW Employees of the Year, interns, and key partners. Access previous issues here:
